YONKERS.

Two Yonkers policemen, John Cahill and Henry Cooley had been informed by the towerman of the New-York Central Railroad near Glenwood that three suspicious looking men had passed up the tracks. Cooley met Cahill at Ashburton and Wartracks. Cooley met Cahill at Ashburton and Warburton aves., and informed him just before the three men approached. They did not answer some questions, and Cahill seized one of the men by the coat. The fellow sprang back, pointing a revolver in Cahill's face and exclaiming: "Release me or I'll blow your head of." Cahill drew his pistol and fired, but missed, and the man ran down Ashburton-ave, at top speed. The officer followed, and the fugitive stopped on the Nepperham Bridge and threw his revolver in the water. He turned and exclaimed: "Don't shoot; I'll go with you." At Warburton-ave, officer Cooley grabbed another man, who also broke away. Cooley fired at the man held, cutting off a thumb of his left hand. Cahill's prisoner said he was John Mayer, a printer. The other man said he was George Smith, an iron-worker, twenty-seven years old, of Mount Vernon.

EX-MAYOR GLEASON ARRESTED.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT AND USING ABUSIVE LANGUAGE, HE HAS DIFFI-CULTY IN GETTING HIMSELF BAILED.

Patrick Jerome Gleason, ex-Mayor of old Long Island City, found himself behind bars last night, prisoner in the Seventy-fourth Precinct, once little after 9 o'clock by Peter Kelly, precinct de-tective. The warrant was issued by Magistrate Smith on the application and oath of Magistrate Edward J. Healey. Assault and abusive language are charged. It is set forth that on October 28, in the heat of the political campaign, in which Mr. Gleason was running for Assembly, with the ob-ject of defeating the regular Democratic ticket in the berough, he had a collision with Magistrate Healey in Borden-ave., and "laid violent hands on the complainant and called him a vile name." The arrest was not unexpected.

Mr. Gleason was at once taken to the police tion. He offered to go upon his own bond or to furnish other bondsmen. Sergeant Webster refused accept bail, and directed that Mr. Gleason be

A search was made for a city magistrate, and for a time none could be found. Mr. Gleason's friends became possessed of the idea that the absence of a magistrate was prearranged. A searching party sent to Flushing found City Magistrate Connorton at his home. He at once journeyed to Long Island City, and accepted bonds in $100 from Thomas Hopkins. Mr. Gleason was then released. The excitement attending the arrest and his being locked in a cell brought on a collapse. Mr. Gleason, it is said, is troubled with heart disease. After he had been locked up Dr. Bunster, his physician, was summoned. The doctor found him in a had way, and he ordered Mr. Gleason removed from the cell, and this was compiled with. It is alleged by some that the arrest was a blunder, as Mr. Gleason is a prisoner now, and is at liberty in the custody of the Sheriff on a judgment arising out of a verdict against him in a sult for slander. for a time none could be found. "I believe," said Mr. Lippe, "that in no other country is purer beer brewed than in the United States. There is no other food product in which there is as little adulteration."

Senator Mason submitted to the witness a formula of the standards of beer adopted by the German Government, and Mr. Hüpfel, who sat beside Mr. Lippe, said that it was to all intents and purposes the formula adopted by the brewers in the United States.

A number of other witnesses gave similar testi-mony, and the committee adjourned until to-day,

RICHMOND'S RIGHTS DENIED.

ONLY $20,000 RECEIVED, WHEN $71,000 WAS DUE, IT IS ALLEGED.

The Richmond Borough School Board met last night. There was a large attendance of teachers and others interested in the schools. The members of the Board were all present except two. President Burke presided. The Committee on Finance presented a report, which reviewed at length the proceedings of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the Central School Board and the Controller in relation to the appropriation of money for Richmond Borough. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the report said, appropriated enough money to run the schools. The committee in charge of the appropriation was in control of the Brooklyn members. It would appear that when this committee reported Estimate and Apportionment was sufficient, and the the division of the money among the boroughs. After the meeting of the Central School Board was found that this had not been done and that the other boroughs had suffered to the benefit of Brooklyn. Richmond's share of Brooglyn's benefit was $6,600.

the other boroughs had suffered to the benefit of Brooklyn. Richmond's share of Brooglyn's benefit was $56,000.

At a special meeting of the Central Board held three days after one at which the action was taken, the report continued, the motion was reconsidered and the detailed apportionment was reconsidered and the detailed apportionment was reconsidered and the Controller. The reconsideration was passed by a vote of 12 to 5. An opinion from the Corporation Counsel holds that the recall was legal and that the Board had a right to recall it.

Now the Richmond Board asserts that it is only a question of bookkeeping, and that despite the Corporation Counsel's opinion Controller Coler's books still show the original detail appropriation filed. They should show it is alleged, the detailed appropriation filed subsequent to the recall. The amount in dispute has not been paid out to Brooklyn, but is retained in the Controller's office. The revised assignment of moneys between the boroughs gave Richmond the full amount, and it should now be credited with $11,000 balance, more than enough for the remainder of the year, instead of the $29,000, as it appears on the books.

The Board adopted the report of the committee. Resolutions favoring an issue of bonds were passed by the School Board of Queens.

ROCKEFELLER FIGHTS ASSESSORS.

A WRIT OF CERTIORARI FOR MOUNT PLEAS-ANT AND A SETTLEMENT IN NORTH TARRYTOWN.

Justice Wilmot M. Smith, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, on Monday on application of counsel for John D. Rockefeller, granted a writ of certiorari directed to J. Hatfield Newman, Ira Nodine and Patrick Sinnott, Assessors of Mount Pleasant Township, Westchester County. The writ is reon December 2.

The new Assessors, in stead of complying with the order of the Court, made after two years of litigation, paid no attention to it this year, and assessed the property for about $5,000 more than the value fixed by the courts. Two instances cited by Mr. Rockefeller's lawyers on grievance day, where property equal in value to his and assessed lower, were the lands owned by Ira Nodine and J. Hatfield Newman, two of the Assessors.

At the regular meeting of the North Tarrytown Trustees last evening President John Webber reported that he had settled the Rockefeller cases against the village by agreeing to the following reductions: See farm, reduced from $10,000 to $3,700; Law farm, reduced from $1,000 to $3,000; Horton farm, reduced from $4,000 to $3,000.

FORGER ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 14 (Special).-William McDonald, alias Humphrey, alias Brown, was arrested on Saturday night by detectives for passing a forged check for $12 upon Charles Moritz, a tailor. According to his own statement he has committed many forgeries and already has spent half of his many forgeries and aiready has spent half of his years in prison. Most of the forgeries he says, he committed in Rochester, Syracuse and Buffalo. His first forgery of any importance was at Buffalo in 1888. There he signed the name of the Mayor of Buffalo, Philip H. Becker, to a check for $12,000. He was sentenced and served a term of four years, being liberated in 1892. He also served time in Syracuse for passing four checks there. He was released in 1895 and came here.

NO JURORS FOR MOLINEUX

TRIAL BEGUN BEFORE RECORDER GOFF IN GENERAL SESSIONS.

At the hour set yesterday for the beginning of the hearing of the case of the State against Roland B. Molineux, indicted for the murder of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams on December 28, 1898, it was apparent that there was to be no further delay in the trial. Part II of General Sessions was being rapidly prepared for the advent of the prisoner and his counsel at 10 o'clock. The result of the day's work was to leave the trial just where it was at the beginning, no juror having been chosen. At 10:45 o'clock Roland B. Molineux, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Kelly, was brought into the room, and received a seat beside his father. The prisoner looked pale and haggard, but walked in with a brisk step and shoulders erect and with smiling

We assume. Your Honor, that the case will not be tried in this court. It was understood that the case would be tried in the Supreme Court. The case was set for trial in that court, and we are ready to proceed to trial to-day in the Supreme Court.

Counsel contended that the case should be tried in the Supreme Court, because heretofore all work done in the case and all indictments against the prisoner were found from that court. Continuing,

Mr. Weeks said:

The indictment which is now moved before Your Honor, was found in the Supreme Court on July 29, 1882. In view of Your Honor saying that you would 1882 in view of Your Honor saying that you would not try this case unless satisfactory to both sides, we ask that you exercise the power vested in you and transfer this case to the Supreme Court. We do not ask this for delay. We appeal to Your Honor's sense of fairness, to Your Honor's power Honor's sense of fairness, to Your Honor's power to make the transfer. We are ready to go down to the Supreme Court to-day and proceed with the trial of this case. In replying to the appeal made by Mr. Weeks,

Recorder Goff said it was true that it had been said the case would not be tried before him unless both sides were satisfied. Recorder Goff then went on to explain why the change had been made, and District Attorney Asa Bird Gardiner rose at the close of the remarks of the Court and said he The District Attorney then went at some length into the reasons for changes made in the plans in the District Attorney's office, asserting that all the movements of that office would be justified.

The defendant's counsel then said that no adjournment of the case was wanted, and that the defendant was ready for trial. Mr. Weeks asked that the Court enteriain a motion to dismiss the indictment. Recorder Goff consented to hear the motion, but would not agree to entertain it. Defendant's counsel then offered the reasons for the motion. After Mr. Weeks had read for some time Recorder Goff said: "This is simply disgraceful, and I refuse to hear any more. Your remarks are trivial."

Several heated remarks followed between counsel

The examination of Mr. Hahn was delayed while Recorder Goff consulted with one of his assistants. The Recorder then announced that after yesterday's session the court would sit in Part IV of General Sessions, that room being larger and more suitable in every way. The Recorder also declared that he had issued on Friday two calls for panels of talesmen.

After much discussion the talesman said he would infer that the Court thought there was ill feeling between Court and prisoner. He was excused, as was Mr. Sprague.

Michael Carr, lately proprietor of a restaurant at Christopher and West sts., was next called. He said he lived at No. 126 West Fourth-st.

When Mr. Osborne gave to Mr. Carr the usual question as to the "existence of malice," the talesman answered immediately:

"I'd say, if he wasn't married he ought to be." He was excused.
